FANTASTIC NEWS

You may remember we entered the BBC 500 Words Story Writing competition way back in March!

They received 131,89 entries which were then whittled down to just 5000.

We are pleased to say that

CJ TWENTYMAN's

entry, 'Be Careful What You Wish For,' has made it to the second round of judging.

An amazing achievement.

Well Done CJ

Curriculum News

Our new topic is

'Why is London Such a Cool Place to Live?'

If you have any leaflets, books or artefacts about London we would be pleased to look at them.

In science we will look at 'Sound' and how it reaches our ears. We will answer the question 'Why does Little Mix SOUND so good?'

In English we will focus on a narrative poem 'The Pied Piper'.

In maths we will continue to build our skills across number, shape and measures.
